Lu Harris-Champer and the Bulldogs aim for winning the SEC Championship and returning to the Women's College World Series

The Georgia softball program enters its 10th season under the direction of head coach Lu Harris-Champer in 2010. In nine seasons under Harris-Champer, the ninth-winningest active head coach in NCAA Division I softball, the Bulldogs have earned two Southeastern Conference Championships and have made eight-consecutive NCAA postseason appearances. In 2010, Harris-Champer and the Bulldogs will aim to bring home another SEC Championship to Athens and to make a return to Oklahoma City for the Women's College World Series following the program's first-ever appearance at the WCWS last year.

The Georgia softball program enters its 14th season in 2010 having made eight-consecutive NCAA postseason appearances. The Bulldogs enter this season with excitement aplenty following the program's first Women's College World Series appearance last year. Nevertheless, the Dogs will need to focus the heightened enthusiasm towards this year as they face a challenging schedule once again.

Youth will remain a theme for Georgia in 2010 as well. The 2009 squad was the youngest in the nation with 90-percent underclassmen, and this year's team does not feature any seniors. Experience and leadership, however, will not be lacking as the Dogs return 12 players including seven starters highlighted by 2009 First-Team All-Americans Alisa Goler and Taylor Schlopy.

The Schedule

The Bulldogs will play a 56-game regular season schedule in 2010 that includes 33 contests at home in the UGA Softball Stadium.

The schedule features four regular-season tournaments and a 28-game Southeastern Conference slate. A total of 30 games will come against teams that advanced into the 2009 NCAA postseason tournament, and 16 contests will be against teams ranked in the final top-25 poll of 2009.

The Dogs will open the campaign at Dot Richardson's National Collegiate Softball Invitational in Clermont, Fla., on Feb. 12-14. Georgia then plays its next 21-games in the friendly confines of the UGA Softball Stadium including three tournaments - the Third-Annual Red & Black Showcase, Feb. 19-21, the Seventh-Annual Georgia Softball Classic, Feb. 26-28, and the Bulldog Invitational, March 5-7.

Georgia starts SEC action against two of the other 2009 WCWS final four teams by playing host to Florida for a double header, March 10, and to Alabama for a three-game series, March 13-14. The 21-game home stand concludes against Furman March 17.

The Bulldogs leave Athens for the first time in over a month with a three-game series in Knoxville versus Tennessee March 20-21.

Additional SEC home series for the Dogs will come against Arkansas (April 2-3), Auburn (April 17-18) and South Carolina (April 24-25), while additional SEC road series will be at Kentucky (March 27-28), at Ole Miss (April 10-11), at Mississippi State (April 13) and at LSU (April 29-30).

The remainder of the non-conference slate features home midweek contests versus Florida State (March 24), Georgia Southern (April 5) and Georgia Tech (April 21). Additionally, the Dogs and Yellow Jackets play in Atlanta, April 7. Georgia concludes the 2010 regular season with a two-game series at Texas, May 9-10.

Postseason dates include the SEC Tournament in Fayetteville, Ark., May 13-15, NCAA Regionals on campus sites, May 21-23, NCAA Super Regionals on campus sites, May 28-30, and the 2010 WCWS at ASA Hall of Fame Stadium in Oklahoma City, June 3-9.

The Pitchers & Catchers

From the circle, Georgia returns junior Sarah McCloud and sophomore Erin Arevalo while Christie Hamilton departs after completing her senior campaign in 2009 by leading the pitching staff with 211.1 innings pitched, a 26-9 record and a 1.95 earned run average.

McCloud shouldered the second-most innings for the Dogs in 2009 with 131.0 innings while compiling a 17-2 record and 2.89 ERA. Arevalo's time in the circle in her freshman season was limited behind Hamilton and McCloud, but she burst onto the scene with four shutout relief innings for a win over eventual national champion Washington at the WCWS. Arevalo finished the '09 season with 17.2 innings pitched and a 2-1 record.

Joining the staff this year will be junior transfers Alanna Hadley and Katie Murphy along with freshman Alison Owen. Hadley played the last two seasons at Gulf Coast Community College in Panama City, Fla., where she compiled a two-year record of 37-15 with 332 strikeouts and just 96 walks. Murphy, an NJCAA Third-Team All-American, played the last two seasons at Daytona State in Daytona Beach, Fla., where she compiled a 34-20 record with 479 strikeouts and only 73 strikeouts. Owen is a four-year letterwinner from East Coweta High School, where she helped her led her team to four-consecutive Georgia Class AAAAA Elite Eight appearances, three region titles and a state runner-up finish in 2008. As a senior, Owen earned her team's Pitcher of the Year Award after going 12-6-1 with a 0.65 ERA.

Completing the battery from behind the plate will be sophomores Kristyn Sandberg, Tori Moody and Ashley Razey. Sandberg logged the most innings for the Dogs at catcher in 2009 with 56 starts at the position while batting .297 with nine home runs and 26 runs-batted in to earn SEC All-Freshman Team honors. Moody also saw action behind the plate in 2009 while also seeing significant time as the designated player. Moody batted .225 with five home runs and 22 RBI. Razey joins the Dogs as a transfer from Southern Miss where she appeared in 54 games in 2009 making 51 starts and batted .301 with six home runs and 28 RBI.

The Infielders

Around the diamond, Georgia returns three of its four starters in junior All-American Alisa Goler, junior Brianna Hesson and sophomore Ashley Pauly while Kristin Schnake does not return following a 2009 senior season in which she batted .321 with five home runs, 52 runs and 30 RBI.

Goler is a career .367 hitter who set several school records in 2009 including home runs (24) and RBI (83) en route to being a Top 10 Finalist for the 2009 USA Softball Collegiate Player of the Year. Hesson's two-year career batting average stands at .298 and last year she earned All-SEC Second Team honors after providing the Dogs with 10 home runs and 43 RBI . Pauly returns for her sophomore season after opening her collegiate career in 2009 by hitting at a .252 clip with 20 runs and 20 RBI while also providing a team-best 13 sacrifice hits.

In completing the infield for this season, Georgia could look sophomore Brittney Hubbard or freshman Katie Rietkovich. Hubbard appeared in 46 games last year scoring 16 runs and driving in another eight. Rietkovich is a four-year letterwinner from South Effingham High School, where she was a two-time All-State selection, set seven single-season record and five career records. As a senior, Rietkovich hit .467 with 16 doubles, 28 RBI and 20 stolen bases.

Utility players Christine Olney, Laura Trout and Amberlie Saxton could also factor into playing time in the infield.

The Outfielders

In the outfield, Georgia returns two starters who patrolled the grass over the last two seasons in junior All-American Taylor Schlopy and junior Megan Wiggins. Schlopy's career batting average stands at .354, and last season, she hit 15 home runs, had 47 RBI and led the team with 71 runs, 38 walks and 21 stolen bases. Wiggins is a career .334 hitter who appeared in 39 games last season missing part of the year due to broken hand. Despite missing some time, Wiggins, who was a first-team All-SEC selection as a freshman, still hit 10 home runs and provided 41 RBI in her sophomore campaign.

Also returning in the outfield for the Dogs is junior Jennie Auger, who has appeared in 75 games in her first two collegiate seasons providing UGA with 20 runs scored and 15 RBI.

Joining the Bulldogs in the outfield this year will be junior Lacey Pierce and freshmen Macie Couey and Sara Sikes. Pierce returns to softball after graduating in 2007 from East Coweta High School, where she played all four years. Couey joins the Dogs from John Milledge Academy, who she helped to Class 3A State Championships in 2005 and 2008. A three-time All-State selection, Couey earned team awards for Best Defensive and Golden Arm as a senior. Sikes comes to UGA from Chapel Hill High School, where she was selected among the Top 10 in Georgia for the 2008 Wendy's Heisman Award. As a senior, Sikes was named the Douglas County Sentinel Player of the Year after batting .457 with 30 doubles, 30 RBI and 16 stolen bases.

The Utility Players

Three additional newcomers, junior Laura Trout and freshman Christine Olney and Amberlie Saxton, will serve as utility players for the Dogs in 2010.

Trout played the last two seasons at Spartanburg Methodist College in South Carolina helping the Pioneers to NJCAA Division I Region X Championships in both seasons. She is a two-time NJCAA All-American who in two seasons with the Pioneers .486 with 71 RBI and 71 runs. Olney is a four-year letterwinner from Calhoun High School, where she was a three-time All-State First Team selection. She earned the CHS offensive award each season. Saxton is a four-year letterwinner from Mill Creek High School, where she helped the Lady Hawks to a Georgia Class AAAAA State Championship in 2008, third-place state finishes in 2006 and 2007 and Region 7AAAAA Championships from 2005-07. A two-time All-State selection, Saxton was named the Lady Hawks' Offensive Player of the Year all-four years and was a two-time selection to the Gwinnett Daily Post Super Six.

Coach Lu Harris-Champer is entering her 10th season at the helm of the Georgia program, having compiled an incredible 452-168 record.

Question: Georgia is coming off of its first-ever Women's College World Series appearance in 2009, what were the keys to last year's success?

Answer: I think it was team unity and chemistry. As their bracelets say "Band Together and Fight." It was seeing the good in things, seeing positive in what you want.

Q: How does this year's squad build upon those keys to continue the success?

A: I think we definitely want to continue to build in our strengths and our determination to be strong in our will.

Q: Last year's team was the youngest in the nation with 90-percent underclassmen. This year's team doesn't include any seniors but does return several experienced players with eight returning starters. Does having a young team or not having any seniors factor into how well a team does?

A: I don't think it matters. I think every year we put the best team out there that we can. I think when you start worrying about last year, you put pressure on yourself. Last year has absolutely nothing to do with today. Today is about today and the work you've put in to be successful today.

Q: The Bulldogs have taken to the often heard phrase of "improve one percent everyday," can you talk about the meaning of that within the Georgia program?

A: Everyday we strive to get one percent better in what we do, and that's because we are just focusing on that one thing at that one time. It's a quote that has been passed on through the years. It's not a team slogan, it's just something we believe.

Q: This year's coaching staff features Gerry Glasco in his second season, former player Megan McAllister returning in an assistant coaching position and Kristin Schnake as a student assistant coach. What does this year's staff bring to the Bulldogs?

A: I'm thrilled to get to work all three of them. Gerry has so much energy. He's fun to be around and he's very competitive and inspiring. He just loves the game and players, and it's fun to work with someone who is that into it. He's a people person. Megan is the very same way. She's stepped in and just rolled with it. She knows what we do because she played in the system. She understands why we are doing things the way we do, and with her experience on the field that's tremendous. We are thrilled to have Kristin back with us too. She's phenomenal and will help us in several aspects.

Q: The Southeastern Conference qualified a record nine teams for the 2009 NCAA Tournament including four national seeds and three teams that advanced to the Women's College World Series. What are the advantages and challenges of competing in such a strong conference.

A: It's great to compete in the SEC. It's one of the premier conferences in the country. It's a fantastic conference top to bottom. The commitment that the SEC makes to its teams is outstanding. The teams in the league are strong and that's the best part about it. You want to play strong competition every weekend so that you are prepared when it comes to the postseason.

Georgia's Coaches Pledge

These student-athletes are entrusted to my care. I will train them to the best of my ability. I will develop them into smartly disciplined, physically fit, highly-trained athletes thoroughly indoctrinated in love for the University of Georgia Bulldogs who represent the University of Georgia and the athletic program in the highest possible manner. I will encourage our athletes and insist that they perform to the best of their ability in the classroom as well as in the arena of competitive athletics. I will require of them, and demonstrate by my own example, the highest standards of integrity, personal conduct, morality, sportsmanship and professional skill.

Head Coach Lu Harris-Champer

Overall Record: 661-232-1 (.740) in 13 seasons
Record at Georgia: 452-168 (.729) in 9 seasons

Head coach Lu Harris-Champer and the Georgia Bulldogs enter the 2010 season looking to make the program's ninth-consecutive NCAA tournament appearance. Harris-Champer, in her 10th season at the helm of the Georgia program, has transformed the Bulldogs into a national contender year-in and year-out.

Prior to Harris-Champer's arrival in Athens, the Georgia softball program produced just a 115-123 record with no Southeastern Conference championships or NCAA appearances. Under the direction of Harris-Champer, the Bulldog softball team has compiled a 452-168 overall record with eight-straight NCAA tournament appearances and two SEC championships, establishing Georgia as one of the elite programs in the country.

In 2009, Harris-Champer's Bulldogs were tabbed the Easton Sports, Inc., Team of the Year after going 47-12 and advancing to their first-ever Women's College World Series appearance, where they went 3-2 and were one of the final four teams standings. The Bulldogs were the nation's youngest team in 2009 with 90-percent underclassman but still finished the year with NCAA statistics rankings of first in fielding percentage (.981), second in slugging percentage (.574), fourth in home runs per game (1.44), sixth in scoring (6.32 runs per game) and 10th in batting average (.319). In SEC play, the Bulldogs went 18-7 to finish second in the Eastern Division and third overall, and they set a new league record for team slugging percentage and would have set a new home run record with 85 long balls had it not been for Florida's 86 home runs in 2009. Georgia also tied for the league lead in triples with 17 and its national-leading fielding percentage was the third-best in SEC history. Additionally, several team records were broken in 2009 as the Bulldogs established new single-season records for home runs, slugging percentage, on-base percentage and fielding percentage, and they tied the school record for sacrifice flies (23). In both the USA Today/National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA) final poll and the ESPN.com/USA Softball final poll, the Bulldogs ranked fourth behind national champion Washington, national runner-up Florida and Alabama. The ranking of fourth is the highest-ever for Georgia passing the program's previous best of fifth during middle of the 2004 season. Under Harris-Champer's guidance, sophomores Alisa Goler and Taylor Schlopy were named first-team All-Americans. Goler was also a USA Softball Collegiate Player of the Year top 10 finalist, and Schlopy was chosen to the USA Softball Japan Cup Team and helped the Americans win Gold.

In 2008, the Georgia softball program finished with an overall record of 46-24, an SEC mark of 14-14 (3rd Eastern Division) and advanced to just its second-ever NCAA Super Regional to exceed expectations and display a promising future. With an 18-player roster consisting of fifty percent freshmen and 12 underclassmen, the prospect of what to expect from the onset of the season was uncertain. Regardless of what anyone's outlook was for youthful squad, it's clear that the Bulldogs went well beyond those expectations as they recorded Georgia's seventh-straight season with 46 wins and earned the program's seventh-consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance. The Bulldogs finished ranked No. 17 by USA Today/NFCA and No. 18 by ESPN.com/USA Softball. Harris-Champer recorded and surpassed 600 collegiate career coaching victories in 2008 as well as achieving and surpassing 400 wins at Georgia in her eight seasons with the team.

The Bulldogs concluded their 2007 campaign with an appearance in the championship game of the NCAA Lincoln Regional. Georgia's 2007 season got off to a relatively fast start after compiling a 22-8 record before SEC play began. The Bulldogs then went on to post a 46-28 overall record and a 13-15 mark in conference action. Georgia won seven of its last eight SEC games propelling the team to a school-record sixth-consecutive postseason appearance. Kellie Middleton became a two-time All-American after earning Second Team honors from Easton, which marked the sixth-consecutive year in which a Bulldog earned All-America honors.

Harris-Champer and the Bulldogs captured their third Southeastern Conference Eastern Division title en route to posting its fifth consecutive season of 54 or more wins in 2006. Overall, UGA tallied a 54-15 overall record and earned a berth in the NCAA Regionals. Harris-Champer secured her 500th career win on April 2 with a victory over Ole Miss. Offensively, the Bulldogs concluded the season with the seventh-highest team batting average (.318) in the nation. Georgia also set a school record after three student-athletes (Kellie Middleton, Jessica Doucette and Megan McAllister) earned All-America distinctions in 2006. The 2005 season proved to be a record-setting campaign for the Bulldogs as they earned their second conference championship in three years while appearing in the championship game of an NCAA Super Regional. Under the direction of Harris-Champer, Georgia posted a 26-4 record in Southeastern Conference play, tying the second-best mark in conference history. Michelle Green and Kim Wendland were named Louisville Slugger/NFCA and Easton All-Americans at the conclusion of the 2005 season. Harris-Champer tallied her second SEC Coach of the Year honor as well.

The Bulldogs concluded the 2004 season with an appearance in the championship game of a NCAA Regional. Georgia earned series wins over LSU, Tennessee, Florida and Mississippi State in conference play and earned a berth in the championship game of the SEC Tournament. The Bulldogs finished the season in the top-20 in several national statistics, including a third-place finish in team batting average (.329), six-place ranking in fielding percentage (.974) and a seventh-place finish in runs per game (5.72).

In 2003, the Bulldogs captured the school's first series wins over the LSU Tigers and the Alabama Crimson Tide and capped off the SEC regular season with a 12-4 win over Alabama, clinching the program's first SEC crown. Georgia also earned its second consecutive berth in the NCAA Regionals, capturing two wins at the tournament. At the conclusion of the 2003 season the Bulldogs led the SEC in 18 categories and were second in five more. Georgia tied two NCAA records, four SEC records and established 35 new Georgia records.

Harris-Champer took Georgia to its first-ever berth in the NCAA Softball Tournament in 2002. The 59 wins ranked as the second-best in the nation in 2002. Harris and the Bulldogs started their season with a 24-game winning streak. By the end of the regular season, Georgia had finished second in both the Southeastern Conference Eastern Division and the Conference Tournament. Nicole Barber and Kim Wendland became Georgia's first two All-Americans in softball and were also named First Team All-SEC. Barber became the NCAA record holder for consecutive steals with 73.

In 2001, Harris-Champer brought a run-and-gun style of play to Athens and helped Georgia to a 33-win season while setting several team records along the way. Harris-Champer made her first season count against Georgia's biggest rivals, sweeping Georgia Tech and Florida, and taking two of three from Tennessee.

Harris-Champer came to Athens after leading Southern Mississippi to back-to-back appearances in the Women's College World Series in 1999 and 2000.

The success Harris-Champer enjoyed in Hattiesburg and in her seven seasons as head coach of the Bulldogs continues her excellent record as a player, collegiate coach and professional coach. Harris-Champer was named head coach at Southern Miss in January 1998, and made history the following spring. The Lady Eagles, in their first season of competition after a seven-year layoff, compiled a 52-9 record and finished the season ranked No. 8 in the nation and reached the College World Series.

Harris-Champer was named 1999 South Region Coach of the Year at the conclusion of the successful World Series run. Southern Miss completed the 2000 season with a 63-13 record and number four national ranking, winning the Conference USA regular-season and tournament titles, the NCAA Regional title, and advancing to the Women's College World Series semifinals. In addition, USM pitcher Courtney Blades won the 2000 Honda Broderick Award as the nation's top player.

In 1997, Harris-Champer served as head coach of the Orlando Wahoos of the Women's Pro Fastpitch League. She led Orlando to a 60-13 record and earned Coach of the Year honors after guiding her team to regular-season and tournament titles.

Harris-Champer was head coach at Nicholls State in 1996 and 1997, leading the school to impressive records of 46-19 and 48-23, respectively, and a pair of NCAA Regional berths. Upon being named head coach at Nicholls in August of 1995, Harris-Champer inherited a team with only seven players on its roster. With a team comprised primarily of inexperienced players and walk-ons, she led Nicholls to the Southland Conference regular-season and tournament championships as well as the finals of the NCAA Regional. Harris was tabbed 1996 Southland Conference and South Region Coach of the Year and finished third in National Coach of the Year balloting.

Prior to her stint at Nicholls, Harris-Champer spent five years as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Western Illinois. During that span, the Westerwinds were 156-98, won the 1992 Gateway Conference tournament, the 1993 Mid-Continent Conference regular season and tournament crowns and the 1996 Mid-Continent Conference West Division title.

A native of San Diego, Calif., Harris-Champer played three seasons at Western Illinois after transferring from Mesa (Calif.) Community College. She is married to assistant Bulldog swim coach Jerry Champer.

Lu and Jerry have three children: Twins Jenna & Emma, 5, born Aug. 2, 2004; and Mya, 3, born May 23, 2006.

The Champer Family: Emma, Jerry, Jenna, Lu and Mya

Gerry Glasco
Recruiting Coordinator / Assistant Coach - 2nd Season

Gerry Glasco enters his second season as recruiting coordinator and assistant coach at the University of Georgia in 2010. In his first year at UGA in 2009, Glasco helped the Bulldogs reach their first-ever Women's College World Series and played a key role in Georgia's hitting instruction helping the Dogs bat .319 with a school-record 85 home runs. The Bulldogs also finished the year with nation's second-best slugging percentage, a school-record .574 clip, and they were sixth in scoring at 6.32 runs per game.

A native of Crab Orchard, Ill., Glasco joined the Bulldog program in the summer of 2008 from Johnston City High School where he worked as an assistant coach. From 1999-2004 and from 2007-08, Glasco worked in the assistant coach role with Johnson City High School. During the 2007 and 2008 seasons the Indians posted 32-3 marks each spring. Glasco also served as coach of the junior high school program that finished 29-0 while winning the state championship in 2007 and 25-4 with a third place finish at the state level in 2006.

Glasco was the founder of the Illinois Southern Force Softball organization, and he served as head coach of the Southern Force Gold from 2001-08 finishing in the top-20 four times at the prestigious ASA Gold Nationals including two finishes in the top-10. He led the Southern Force to the 2004 18U Gold National Championship, which was held in Marietta, Ga. Additionally, the Illinois Southern Force program became nationally recognized by winning the Canada Cup Futures Championship in 2003, and more recently finishing second and fourth at the ASA 16U A Nationals in 2007 and 2008, respectively. Glasco and the Southern Force coaching staff were honored as the "National Travel Team Coaching Staff of the Year" in 2004 by the NFCA (National Fastpitch Coaching Association).

Glasco graduated from Crab Orchard High School in 1976 where he lettered in track, baseball and basketball. He went on to attend the University of Illinois, where he graduated with a degree in Agricultural Economics in 1980.

Glasco has been married to Vickie Johnson Glasco for 30 years, and they have three daughters, Tara (27), Erin (23) and Geri Ann (15). Tara played collegiate softball at Southern Illinois University Carbondale, and Erin played collegiately at Texas A&M, where she helped lead the Aggies to a runner-up finish for the national championship at the Women's College World Series in 2008.

Megan McAllister
Assistant Coach - 1st Season

Megan McAllister enters her first season as an assistant coach for the Georgia program in 2009-10. McAllister rejoins the Bulldogs after spending one season as an assistant coach at Wingate University. She helped guide the Wingate Bulldogs to a 33-16-1 overall record and the 2009 South Atlantic Conference regular season championship with a school-record 13 league wins.

Prior to her stint at Wingate, McAllister spent the 2008 season as a volunteer coach at her alma mater, Georgia. During her volunteer year at UGA, she worked primarily with the hitters and defense, and the Bulldogs went 46-24 and advanced to Super Regionals in the NCAA Tournament.

McAllister was a four-year letterwinner for Georgia from 2004-07, and in February of 2007, she was drafted by the Philadelphia Force of the National Professional Fast-Pitch League.

During her playing career at Georgia, McAllister earned Easton second-team and NFCA third-team All-America honors in 2006 after hitting .350 with 16 doubles, a then school-record 16 home runs and 64 RBI. McAllister was also a first-team NFCA All-Southeast Region selection and a first-team All-SEC honoree for both the 2005 and 2006 seasons. She helped Georgia earn its second SEC Championship in 2005, and in 2004, she was selected to the SEC All-Freshmen Team. McAllister still holds the Georgia record for career home runs with 47, and also has career ranks of first (tied) in sacrifice flies (12), second in doubles (46), second in extra-base hits (93), second in RBI (184), second in walks (119), third in total bases (390), third in hit-by-pitches (39), fifth in hits (203), sixth in slugging percentage (.583), sixth in on-base percentage (.430).

A native of Carlsbad, Calif., McAllister earned a Bachelor of Science in Family and Consumer Sciences degree in Consumer Economics from Georgia in May of 2007.

Kristin Schnake enters her first season as a student assistant coach for Georgia in 2010. Schnake moves into the role having completed her collegiate playing career last season by helping lead the Bulldogs to the 2009 Women's College World Series.

This past summer, Schnake played her first professional season of softball as a member of the USSSA Pride. She played in 26 games for the Pride making 23 starts and batting .225 with nine runs scored.

During her three-year playing career at Georgia after transferring from Illinois, Schnake posted a .301 batting average with 108 runs and 64 RBI. She closed her career ranked fourth in assists (347), fifth in sacrifice hits (33) and tied 10th in stolen bases (42). Dr. Michael F. Adams
University President

Dr. Michael F. Adams was named the 21st president of the University of Georgia on June 11, 1997. He immediately focused on securing UGA's future as one of America's premier public research universities.

Widely recognized as a leader in higher education administration, he also has held a number of significant leadership positions in intercollegiate athletics. He is currently the chairman of the NCAA Executive Committee, the highest governance body in the NCAA. It is composed of 13 campus presidents and chancellors who oversee association-wide issues. The committee is charged with ensuring that each division operates consistently with the basic purposes, fundamental policies and general principles of the association.

He has been chair of the Southeastern Conference and is a member of the Knight Commission on Intercollegiate Athletics. A college athlete himself – he lettered in track at Lipscomb University – he values athletics as an important part of the college experience for athletes and non-athletes alike.

Dr. Adams recently completed a term as chairman of the Association of Public and Land-Grant Universities, formerly known as the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges. He is the only person to have served as chair of the American Council on Education, the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities and APLU. He has been chair of the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the accrediting body for higher education in the southern United States, and in 2005 received the James T. Rogers Distinguished Leadership Award, the highest honor given by the agency.

A strategic plan, completed in 2001 at his direction, identified three themes for UGA's growth in the first decade of the 21st century: Building the New Learning Environment, Maximizing Research Opportunities and Competing in a Global Economy. Under Dr. Adams' leadership, student quality has risen steadily and the University of Georgia has been ranked as one of America's top 20 public universities for eight of the past 10 years by U.S. News & World Report. External funding for research, public service and instruction totals more than $200 million annually. Private giving to the university is at its highest level ever; UGA completed the Archway to Excellence campaign on June 30, 2008 with more than $630 million, well above the $500 million goal.

The total value of construction initiated during his tenure approaches $1 billion, financed through the innovative use of state, federal, internal and private funds, and includes the Student Learning Center; new residence halls and a dining commons on East Campus; the Complex Carbohydrate Research Center; the Paul Coverdell Center for Biomedical and Health Sciences; the Animal Health Research Center; the new Lamar Dodd School of Art and an expansion of Sanford Stadium and the Women's Athletic Complex. More recent facility additions and improvements include the new Dodd School of Art, the expansion of the Tate Student Center and an addition to the Georgia Museum of Art. Moore College, Candler Hall, Phi Kappa Hall and Myers Hall have been renovated and Old College, the University's first building, has been renovated as the home of the Franklin College of Arts and Sciences.

He holds a bachelor's degree in speech and history from David Lipscomb College. He earned a master's in political communications and a doctorate in political communications, with a cognate emphasis in educational administration, from The Ohio State University. At OSU, he was named a University Fellow, the highest academic recognition given by the graduate school. He holds an academic appointment as a professor of speech communication at UGA.

Dr. Adams was born in Montgomery, Alabama and attended public schools in Georgia from first grade through ninth, graduating from high school in Chattanooga in 1966. He began his professional career on the communication faculty at Ohio State, later serving as vice president for university affairs at Pepperdine University. He was president of Centre College in Danville, Kentucky for nine years before coming to Georgia. He also served as chief of staff for Senator Howard Baker and as an aide to Governor Lamar Alexander of Tennessee.

Damon Evans
Director Of Athletics

UGA letter winner and double degree holder Damon Evans was selected as Director of Athletics in December 2003, and assumed the duties officially on July 1, 2004. At the time he was just 34 years of age, and one of the youngest athletic directors in the country. However, he had already established himself as an up and coming athletic administrator. Evans has received several honors including the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "40 Under 40 Award" for 2004, 2005, and 2007, the UGA Terry College of Business Award as the "Outstanding Young Alumnus", and Sports Illustrated's "101 Most Influential Minorities in Sports".

Today, Evans oversees a nationally recognized program with 21 intercollegiate sports teams involving more than 600 student-athletes, an $84 million budget and a 260 person staff. He is a member of several Southeastern Conference and NCAA Committees, Chairman of the NCAA Division I Leadership Council, and is involved in volunteer and community service roles across the state of Georgia.

He was born in Nebraska, but spent much of his youth in Gainesville, Georgia where he graduated from Gainesville High School after a stellar career both athletically and academically. During his football career at Georgia (1988-92), Evans earned a starting assignment four consecutive seasons, played in three bowl games ('89 Peach, '91 Independence, and '92 Citrus) and was a member of the '91 and '92 teams that won nine and ten games, respectively. He earned two degrees from the University of Georgia, receiving a bachelor's degree in finance in 1992 and a master's of education in sports management in 1994.

Evans joined the staff at the University of Missouri, serving as Director of Compliance and Operations (1994-95). After holding the positions as a Director and Assistant Commissioner for Eligibility and Compliance Services at the Southeastern Conference (1995-98), he returned to his alma mater. Before his appointment as UGA Director of Athletics, he held titles of Associate and Senior Associate A.D. for Internal Affairs.

He is married to the former Kerri Budd of Atlanta and they have two children, Cameron and Kennedy.

The Southeastern Conference:
Setting the Standard for Intercollegiate Athletics in Softball

SEC Softball will celebrate its 14th year of existence in 2010 and has established itself as one of the leading conferences in the sport.

The SEC qualified a record nine teams for the 2009 NCAA Tournament - Alabama, Arkansas, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, LSU, Mississippi State and Tennessee - as the conference made its 12th overall, seventh consecutive, Women's College World Series appearance. For the second consecutive year, Florida received the No. 1 national seed, while the SEC grabbed four total national seeds; No. 4 Alabama, No. 6 Georgia and No. 13 Tennessee.

The highlight of the season was when the SEC advanced a league record three of the final four teams to the WCWS: Florida, Alabama and Georgia.

Florida claimed its second consecutive SEC title and tournament title with a 26-1 record. The Gators posted a 63-5 overall record. Florida's Tim Walton was named Coach of the Year while Stacey Nelson earned Pitcher of th Year honors. Alabama's Charlotte Morgan was named Player of the Year and the Tide's Amanda Locke captured Freshman of the Year honors. Tennessee's Lillian Hammond was selected as Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

Softball came under the auspices of the SEC in the 1996-97 season. Since that time, 10 different conference teams have made appearances in the NCAA Championship, including six teams earning WCWS berths - one by South Carolina in the inaugural season, Alabama in 200, 2003, 2005, 2006, 2008 and 2009, Florida in 2008 and 2009, Georgia in 2009, LSU in 2001 and 2004 and Tennessee in 2005, 2006 and 2007.

Eight teams (Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, LSU, Mississippi State, South Carolina and Tennessee) have made Top 25 appearances and six teams have climbed into the Top 10 (Alabama, Florida, Georgia, LSU, South Carolina and Tennessee) of the NFCA/USA Today Poll. At least one SEC team has been ranked in the poll each week since the inception of SEC Softball.

South Carolina is the flagship team of the league with a rich history in softball dating back 35 seasons. The Gamecocks have made 15 NCAA Regional and the WCWS appearances.

Mississippi Sate played softball for five seasons during the 1980's before resuming the sport whe it was added to the SEC. Tennessee added softball in 1995-96, Arkansas, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, LSU and Ole Miss began softball programs in 1996-97 to give the league 11 representatives (Vanderbilt does not sponsor softball).

The 1999 season was the first in which the conference was eligible for an automatic berth to the NCAA Championships.

As the sport continues to grow in competitiveness and popularty, the SEC has had six different regular season champions and five different conference tournament champions.

The Bulldog softball team will play its seventh season in its multi-million dollar softball stadium in 2010. The facility holds close to 1,400 fans with additional standing room and features the best amenities possible. The Georgia Softball Stadium has been chosen to host three NCAA Regionals and one NCAA Super Regional since its inception in 2004.

Both the Georgia and visiting team dugout are connected via tunnel to locker rooms. The Bulldogs' locker room area has all facilities located in it — an athletic training room, players' lounge, game room, locker room, showers, and the coaches' offices and locker room. On the first base side, the visiting team has its locker room and showers along with the umpires' locker room.

A state-of-the-art press box was built as well. The press box has suites for radio, television, and for both Georgia and the visiting team's athletic director.

The stadium is finished with an awning covering the upper section. Georgia's stadium ranks among the nation's best and will continue to be an attractive site for NCAA postseason play for years to come.

Sports Medicine / Why Georgia?

SPORTS MEDICINE

The goal of the sports medicine team is two-fold: the prevention and care of injuries. Benjamin Franklin once said, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." This concept is just as important toady in sports medicine as it was over 200 years ago. Prevention of injuries is accomplished through pre-participation physical exams, preventative maintenance rehab programs, taping, bracing and padding, and education.

When injuries do occur, the role of the sports medicine team is to promptly evaluate, diagnose and provide proper care for those injuries. The goal in the event of an injury is to return the athlete to his or her previous performance level as quickly, and as safely, as possible. But when an athlete is injured, his or her best interests are the primary focus of the sports medicine team.

WHY GEORGIA?

"Throughout the recruiting process I realized that all the coaches, players and support staff formed a family-like atmosphere. UGA offers not only a great venue for excelling in athletics, but a degree from Georgia equips you with the necessary skills to succeed in life after college."

Former Bulldog Quarterback & Overall #1 NFL Draft Pick Matthew Stafford

"Georgia has everything – the weather, the location and the campus. The academics are really good and increasing every year. I just loved it when I came here."

Former Gym Dog & Honda Award Winner Courtney Kupets

"I decided to come to Georgia because I love the spirit and tradition of the school. It also has great facilities and has everything I was looking for academically and athletically."

What It Means To Be A Bulldog

"Being a Bulldog is the most amazing experience. What makes it most special is knowing when you walk the campus in Athens you are walking in the same steps that so many greats have taken. It's amazing to know that the successes we have in softball are shared with the successes of the other sports at UGA. To think that Teresa Edwards, Kristy Kowal, Herschel Walker, Charley Trippi, Dominique Wilkins, Dan Magill, Vince Dooley, and Wally Butts paved the path for all of our current athletes and coaches is so inspiring. It is such an awesome responsibility as a University of Georgia coach and athlete to know that whether you are in Athens, Atlanta, Rome, Savannah, Albany, Columbus or the North Georgia Mountains, there are literally millions of University of Georgia fans and supporters we are representing. This is what motivates me, my staff and our team to give our all for Georgia each day."

Lu Harris-Champer (2001-current)
Top 10 Winningest Active NCAA Division I Coaches

"There are so many great things about being a member of not only the University of Georgia softball program, but also about being a student at UGA. Being a Bulldog is about heart. It's about commitment not only to yourself, but to your family and everyone else around you. It's about having a special kind of pride in everything you do because you know there are a million other people that would do anything for the opportunities you have while at UGA. Being a Bulldog is about excellence; excellence through academics, sports, and relationships. At Georgia, you are pushed to get more out of yourself than you ever thought possible. It's about digging deep and bringing out your personal best in all aspects of life."

Kasi Carroll (2004-07)
All-SEC and Academic All-American

"Being a Bulldog means more to me now that I have completed not only my athletic career, but my academic career at UGA. To be a Bulldog means to be the pride of your school, your community, your teammates, and most of all your family. I have made memories and friends that I will have for the rest of my life. Competing for Georgia developed me not only as an athlete but as a person. The things I learned on the field will help me in every aspect of my life in the future. Leaving the southern hospitality to move to the north makes me miss UGA everyday."

Kim Wendland (2002-05)
Three-time All-American

"The University of Georgia will always have a special place in my heart. Not only did I get to exceed at the sport of softball, but I also received a great education. In the 4 1/2 years that I was at UGA I learned what it meant to be part of the Bulldog family, and that is something that will never be forgotten. I will always bleed Red & Black! My experience at UGA taught me so many great things that I can now take with me to my professional career. My experience at UGA was definitely one of the best times of my life!"

Michelle Green (2002-05)
Two-time All-American

On the Road with the Bulldogs

With an emphasis on the "student" part of student-athlete, the Bulldog softball program is always looking for ways to help in the classroom.

Without question, the rigors of traveling can at times have an adverse affect on a student-athlete's schedule. That is why, when possible, the Bulldogs travel by airplane to games in order to maximize the time in their schedule, which allows them more time to concentrate on the books.

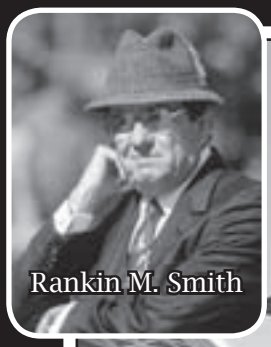
Within the past five seasons, the Bulldogs have traveled to Fullerton, Long Beach, Los Angeles, San Diego and Palm Springs, Calif., Miami, Fla., Honolulu, Hawaii and Oklahoma City!

Balance in Athletics & Academics



Rankin M. Smith

Rankin M. Smith, Sr. Student-Athlete Academic Center

In the fall of 2009, the University of Georgia welcomed the most academically qualified freshmen class in UGA history.

2009 UGA Freshmen

- Enrollment of 4,332
- 3.80 average high school GPA
- 1,263 average SAT score
- 613 average writing SAT score
- 28 average ACT score
- 54% of the 2009 freshman class were in the top 10 percent of their graduating high school class

As the University of Georgia's academic curriculum has become much more rigorous, the need for an extensive learning center, complete with adequate computer facilities and tutorial services, is necessary for ongoing academic success of UGA student-athletes. Dedicated in November, 2002, the new $7.2 million Rankin M. Smith, Sr. Student-Athlete Academic Center provides Georgia student-athletes with the most modern and impressive center in college athletics. The 30,000 square-foot center includes computer labs, tutorial rooms, conference centers, counselors' offices, lecture hall, student lounge and banquet area among other things. It is named for the late Rankin M. Smith, UGA graduate and former owner of the Atlanta Falcons, and made possible by a gift from members of the Smith family.

"The Rankin Smith Center is definitely a point of pride for the Athletic Association. We are fortunate to have a state-of-the-art academic facility that enables us to assist our student-athletes with their academic endeavors!"

"Opportunity: A good chance for self-advancement"

Whatever the career goals of a student-athlete, becoming a Georgia Bulldog will provide you with the opportunity to achieve those objectives. All across the state of Georgia, the southeast, and in many of the 50 states, former Georgia Bulldogs are living lives of achievement, success and self-fulfillment.

"In retrospect, I realize how fortunate and blessed I am to have been given the opportunity to play softball at the University of Georgia. Not only was it an honor to play for the Bulldog Nation, but more specifically, for Coach Harris and the entire softball staff. The daily challenges provided by the coaches have driven me to new heights on and off the field. For they have instilled in me the ability to be a leader, to never settle for mediocrity, and to respect your competitor. These invaluable lessons not only lead to success on the field, but will also lead to success off of the field as I pursue an education and career in the field of pharmacy."

"Looking back on my time spent at the University of Georgia, the first thought that comes to mind is how truly blessed I was. I will always value the lessons I've learned and the experiences I've gained. Playing softball for Coach Harris and her staff prepared me for the real world in ways I never anticipated. While the day-to-day competition gave me the drive to excel and to be the best on all of life's playing fields, it was the structured and disciplined working environment and the attention to detail that Coach Harris and her staff demanded that has been the most beneficial to me in my professional life. I will always be grateful to Coach Harris and her staff for helping prepare me for the next phase of my life. Good luck and Go Dawgs!"

Endowments Ensure the Future of Georgia Athletics

The program is vital to the future of Georgia Athletics by providing the long-term solution of keeping pace with escalating expenses. A gift to establish a scholarship provides income towards funding a scholarship each year and permanently recognizes the donor or any individual in whose honor the scholarship is named. A full scholarship is endowed through a gift of $150,000.

These and other commitments represent the foundation of the Georgia athletic program's future. For more information on the Scholarship Endowment Program or other giving opportunities, please contact the development office in the UGA Athletic Association at (706) 542-9220.

The Legacy of Uga

In the last 100 years of intercollegiate athletics, Georgia's Uga has established himself as the nation's most well-known mascot.

Owned by the Frank W. "Sonny" Seiler family of Savannah, Georgia, since Uga I first graced the campus in 1956, each of the Uga mascots is awarded a varsity letter in the form of a plaque, identical to those presented to all Georgia athletes.

As determined and published by the Pittsburgh Press, Georgia is the only major college that actually buries its mascots within the confines of the stadium. Epitaphs to the dogs are inscribed in bronze, and before each home game flowers are placed on their graves.

Uga VII

For the past 21 years, Uga's jerseys have been custom-made at the beginning of each season from the same material used for the players' jerseys. Uga also has been defined by his spiked collar, a symbol of the position which he holds.

Uga's on-field home is a permanent air conditioned doghouse located next to the cheerleaders' platform, providing comfort in the heat of August and September.

Uga VII, born Loran's Best, was the most recent to roam the sidelines as the mascot, serving from Aug. 30, 2008 until his unexpected passing due to heart-related causes in Nov. 2009.

Uga VIII will be introduced in 2010.

Uga I

The Uga line began with Uga I, born Hood's Ole Dan. Uga I was given to Cecelia Seiler by a friend, Frank Heard of Columbus. The practice of having Uga wear a red jersey on the sideline at games began during his reign, which lasted from 1956-66.

Uga IV

Uga IV, born Seiler's Uga Four, appeared at the Heisman Trophy banquet with Herschel Walker in 1982, the first mascot ever invited to the ceremony. Following his reign from 1981-89, Uga IV was declared "Dog of the Decade" by Vince Dooley in 1991.

Uga II

Uga II, born Ole Dan's Uga, took over at Homecoming, 1966. As he was led to midfield at Sanford Stadium, the student body erupted in a cheer that was picked up by the entire stadium, "Damn Good Dog!" His reign lasted until 1972.

Uga V

Born Uga IV's Magillicuddy II and reigning from 1990-99, Uga V appeared on the cover of Sports Illustrated, which proclaimed him the nation's best college mascot. Uga V also appeared in Clint Eastwood's "Midnight In The Garden Of Good And Evil."

Uga III

Uga III, born Seiler's Uga Three, was present for Georgia football's finest moment as Herschel Walker guided the Bulldogs to the 1980 national championship. Uga III reigned from 1972-80, retiring on the 100th football game of his career.

Uga VI

Uga VI, born Uga V's Watchagot Loran, reigned from 1999-2008. Uga VI was featured in an Emmy-winning episode of Turner South's Liars and Legends and as part of a college football segment on NBC Nightly News.

Georgia Traditions

Bulldogs

Many old timers say Georgia acquired the nickname, "Bulldogs," because of the strong ties with Yale. Georgia's first president, Abraham Baldwin, was a Yale man and the early buildings on campus were designed from blueprints of the same buildings at Yale. But on Nov. 3, 1920, Morgan Blake of the Atlanta Journal wrote about school nicknames and said, "The Georgia Bulldogs would sound good because there is a certain dignity about a bulldog, as well as ferocity." After a 0-0 tie with Virginia in Charlottesville on Nov. 6, 1920, Atlanta Constitution writer Cliff Wheatley used the name "Bulldogs" in his story five times. The name has been used ever since.

Silver Britches

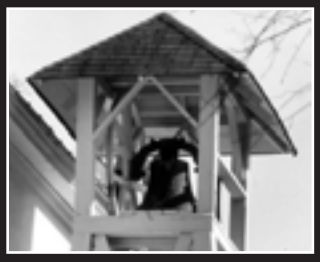
Silver Britches were an innovation of Coach Wally Butts, who took over as head coach in 1939. The handsome pants, complimented by a bright red jersey, made for a striking uniform. Through the years, fans referred to the Bulldogs' silver britches in their chants and on banners, but the phrase really caught on in the early 1950s with a cheer, banners and colorful vests that proclaimed "Go You Silver Britches." Coach Vince Dooley redesigned the uniform when he came in 1964 and used white pants; however, he re-instituted the silver britches in 1980 just prior to Georgia's national championship season.

How 'Bout Them Dogs!

This is a slogan of recent vintage, but one that has become a battle cry of Bulldog fans probably because of its obvious grammatical slur. It first surfaced during the 1970s, especially during the 1978 season when the Bulldogs posted several come-from-behind victories. It gained national attention and exposure when Georgia won the national championship in 1980. A major wire-service used the phrase in its story of Georgia's victory over Notre Dame.

The Chapel Bell

The ringing of the chapel bell after a Georgia victory is a tradition that continues even though freshmen are no longer ordered to do the chore. In the 1890s, the playing field was located only yards from the Chapel and first-year students were compelled to ring the bell until midnight in celebration of a Bulldog victory. Today, students, alumni, and townspeople still rush to the Chapel to ring the bell after a gridiron victory.



The Arch

The historic Arch which sits on the edge of North campus was installed in 1864. For years, freshmen were forbidden to walk under the Arch. Violators risked punishment from upperclassmen. Once rigidly enforced, the tradition of hazing of freshmen became passe'. However, many freshmen, learning of the tradition during orientation or from other sources, still choose to honor the century-old tradition.

Glory, Glory

Among the University's oldest and most lasting traditions is the school fight song, "Glory, Glory," which is sung to the tune of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." It was sung at games in the 1890s, but arranged in its present form by Georgia's immortal musician-composer Hugh Hodgson in 1915.

Between The Hedges

A reference to Sanford Stadium that dates back to the early 1930s. The famous English privet hedges that surround Sanford Stadium's playing field were only one foot high when the stadium was dedicated in 1929 and were protected by a wooden fence. It was natural for a clever sports writer, referring to an upcoming home game, to observe "that the Bulldogs will have their opponent 'between the hedges.'" At least one old-timer says the phrase was first coined by legendary Atlanta sportswriter Grantland Rice.

UGA Makes First-Ever Women's College World Series Appearance Named Easton Team Of The Year

The Georgia Bulldogs finished the 2009 season with a 47-12 overall record, made the school's eighth-consecutive NCAA Championship appearance and advanced to the program's first-ever Women's College World Series. Georgia, the Easton Sports, Inc., Team of the Year, reached the final four of the WCWS and was the only team to defeat eventual national champion Washington at the event.

In both the USA Today/National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA) final poll and the ESPN.com/USA Softball final poll, the Bulldogs ranked fourth behind national champion Washington, national runner-up Florida and Alabama. The ranking of fourth is the highest-ever for Georgia passing the program's previous best of fifth during middle of the 2004 season.

The Bulldogs were the nation's youngest team in 2009 with 90-percent underclassman but still finished the year with NCAA statistics rankings of first in fielding percentage (.981), second in slugging percentage (.574), fourth in home runs per game (1.44), sixth in scoring (6.32 runs per game) and 10th in batting average (.319). Among the Southeastern Conference, where Georgia finished second in the Eastern Division and third overall with a record of 18-7, the Bulldogs set a new league record for team slugging percentage and would have set a new home run record with 85 long balls except for Florida's 86 this season. Georgia also tied for the league lead in triples with 17 and its national-leading fielding percentage was the third-best in SEC history.

In the Georgia record books, several team and individual records were broken in 2009. As a team, the Bulldogs established new single-season records for home runs, slugging percentage, on-base percentage and fielding percentage. They also tied the school record for sacrifice flies (23). Individually, sophomore Alisa Goler climbed to the top of multiple categories. She now stands as the single-season school record holder for batting average (.455), home runs (24), RBI (83), extra-base hits (41), total bases (164), slugging percentage (.994), on-base percentage (.551), walk-to-strikeout ratio (6.00) and "Toughest to K" with just six strikeouts per 165 at-bats. Both Goler's RBI and slugging percentage totals established new SEC records, and her slugging percentage was the best mark in the nation this season. Goler's 24 home runs were just one shy of the SEC record set by Alabama's Kelly Kretschman in 1998. Right behind Goler's charge into the record books was fellow sophomore Taylor Schlopy. If not for Goler, Schlopy would have set new Georgia records for slugging (.819) and on-base percentage (.550). Schlopy led the team in runs scored with 71, which tied for the third-best total in school history, and she also contributed 15 home runs and 47 RBI. Her 15 long balls rank tied fourth most in UGA history. Both Goler, a USA Softball Collegiate Player of the Year top 10 finalist, and Schlopy, who was among 41 athletes chosen to attend the USA Softball Women's National Team selection camp, were named first-team All-America by both the NFCA and Easton.

The end of the 2009 season marked the end of seniors Christie Hamilton and Kristin Schnake's Bulldog careers. Hamilton finishes her career at Georgia ranked fourth in several categories including appearances (108), starts (76), wins (56), complete games (50), shutouts (18/9), saves (4), innings pitched (534.1) and strikeouts (429). Schnake finishes her career at Georgia ranked fourth in assists (347), fifth in sacrifice hits (33) and tied 10th in stolen bases (42). Schnake signed with the USSSA Pride of the National Pro Fastpitch league to play professionally.
